

Environmental Policy Statement

Mastermelt America refines precious metals from its customers' scrap products, and provides associated services. Our services provide a positive environmental impact by reducing landfill discard and natural resource extraction. Mastermelt America fosters a culture and maintains a business plan that focuses on further reducing its environmental impact. We take the stewardship of our customers' recyclable materials seriously with detailed tracking from material receipt to precious metal extraction. All Mastermelt America employees and contractors must adhere to the following principles:

- To go beyond compliance with all federal, state, local and other environmental laws, codes, regulations and permits applicable to our business and activities.
- Make environmental excellence an integral part of our planning, budgeting, sourcing and decision making process.
- Responsibly expand our business through sustainable development techniques.
- Communicate with and train all employees regarding their obligations with respect to this policy.
- Demonstrate our commitment to the environment with our stakeholders.
- Pollution prevention through waste minimization, process optimization, recycling and source reduction opportunities.
- Monitor our own environmental performance through a systematic program of internal and external environmental compliance audits.
- Continually improve our environmental performance through the implementation of ISO 14001.
- Explore every opportunity to aid our customers in their environmental compliance and impact management.
- Mastermelt America's Executive Management will monitor compliance to this policy assuring it is maintained both in letter and spirit.
